In claim 37, line 1, please delete "36" and substitute therefore --44--.

In claim 38, line 1, please delete "36" and substitute therefore --44--.

B2 Claim 39. An apparatus as in claim 12 wherein said processing means provides said capturing means in a plurality of pre-defined positions and stores said images of said eye captured by said capturing means corresponding to said plurality of pre-defined positions.

Claim 40. An apparatus as in claim 39 wherein said plurality of pre-defined positions includes a first and a last position, wherein a position of said projecting means when said capturing means is in said last position is rotated substantially 180 degrees from a position of said projecting means when said capturing is in said first position.

40

Claim 41. An apparatus as in claim 40 wherein said processing means further includes means for providing a three-dimensional representation of said stored images of said eye for analysis.

BB
Claim 42. A slit lamp assembly comprising:

- a light source; and
- a means for projecting convex slit images.

Claim 43. A device according to claim 27 further including processing means for providing said first and second cameras in at least one pre-defined position and storing said images read by said first and second cameras corresponding to said at least one pre-defined position.

Claim 44. A device according to claim 43 wherein said processing means provides said first and second cameras in a plurality of pre-defined positions and stores said images read by said first and second cameras corresponding to said plurality of pre-defined positions.
